

Sample Trip Itinerary

Evening One – arrive earlier in the day, gather for dinner and review the trip plans

Day 1

Tour begins between 8:30 – 9:00

Drive to distillery and see local sites on the way

Tour of distillery, some of these Estates have been in operation since 1763 and most still use open vats for fermentation, and lunch at the distillery or local restaurant nearby.

On the boat for some sailing, visiting some of the most lovely beaches in the Caribbean, snorkeling and/or beach time

Dinner at a local restaurant where we can enjoy a local favorites, fish, and lobster.

Day 2

Meet between 8:30 – 9:00

Visit local open air fresh food, spice and artisan markets and enjoy shopping time

Tour distillery and enjoy rum tastings. Rhum's of the French West Indian's are different than most other rums. You will get the chance to find out how are why they are in their own class and watch how they are made. All questions will be answered about Rhum an sampling of the final product.

Visit major attraction for that island i.e., tour botanical gardens, trek to waterfalls and rainforests

Day 3

Typically, a travel day

Depending on travel distance we would leave right after breakfast

Fishing while underway

Want to learn a little about sailing—Captain Carl will instruct about basic sailing technique or just relax on the deck under the tropical sun

Gourmet lunch on the boat featuring fresh fish-potentially caught on tour, tropical fruits and salads and of course Rum beverages

Dinner and evening festivities i.e., visiting local watering holes will be on the second island

Day 4

Meet between 8:30 – 9:00

Day 4, the first day on second island will be very much like the day 1 on the first island. The main difference will be the beach party at the end of the day, conditions permitting. It will be time for us to say so glad y'all came down and traveled with us and no Caribbean trip can really be complete without a peach party. We can watch the sun go down and keep an eye out for the green flash.

Day 5

Meet around 10:00 am

Visit open air markets and enjoy a little site seeing

Tour of distillery after lunch

After distillery tour we can have a bit of open time to do what the group wants. And with that the Charter is over.
